Hello to all of you who are the Warriors Class of 2023!

This letter contains important information and reminders to help you get ready to attend Wisconsin Lutheran College. You'll be here and walking to your classes in less than six weeks! We want to help you have a great experience from the moment you set foot on campus as a freshman Warrior!

The Registrar has enclosed your Fall class schedule, so please review that. Also pay special attention to the required textbooks for your courses – it's really important to have textbooks and required materials in hand for the first day of classes.

You'll meet your academic advisor during Warrior Orientation & Welcome (WOW) Weekend at a COL 101 – Introduction to College Experiences session on August 24. All freshmen are required to take COL 101 because the course prepares them for pathways of college success and builds an important relationship with their advisors. The people who serve as COL 101 advisors are faculty and Student Success staff who are good and friendly partners on a student's journey to academic success. Your COL 101 advisor is part of a team that includes the deans, professors, coaches, and student life personnel – all of us are fired up to make your transition to college a smooth one.

During WOW Weekend, please pay attention to helpful notices about where to find offices for the Student Success Center, the Registrar, Campus Ministry, and your faculty advisor. You are always welcome to drop in at my office (A214 in the Greenfield Administration Building) with any questions you might have about classes and advising. You'll be crazy-busy during WOW Weekend, and a lot of information will be shared with you to help the important stuff become more familiar.

My advice for your first weeks on campus is to never hesitate to reach out for help and to never worry about asking the "dumb question." Asking questions – big or small, important or ordinary – is one of the best strategies for success. See you soon! All of us can't wait to meet you!
